

THE BALLS

Press Release

The Balls emerged from the dark corners of Melbourne, Australia. Their sound is a sleazy punk, stoner rock, and gigs are a booze-fuelled blast to the last man standing.

Formed in 2011, The Balls style was a result of the patient songwriting process. After it was perfected, they took the material out and performed live. The result is their punchy assault of sleazy punk, stoner rock.

One fan stated,
"If Red Fang and Clutch got addicted to meth and formed a band they would sound like The Balls".

The Balls wrote their second CD using the same hermetic, substance-abusing methodology as Brett Easton Ellies did for American Pyscho. They went into the wilderness, in the middle of summer, surrounded by bushfires, snakes and 40°C heat, which adds a touch of the Australian outback to the classic stoner sound. Now, the CD and the band are just as hot, as the Australian summer.

Whether you're into that slow burning, hazy sound or a faster, heavier & more intense variety, The Balls provide it live. Their heavy sound leaves listeners with busted ear drums and bloodshot eyes, and very happy.

Magazine Quote:

"The Balls flourish in a live setting. They are a band that chew up stages. A frenetic, furious musical proposition like few others. One of the tightest live acts Melbourne has to offer." - Joseph Earp, Beat Magazine
